Looking back and looking forward...thoughts from Mrs. Morasch on her years at Wa-Hi.

Q. How much money have you kept track of over the years?

"Oh my gosh, I have no idea, hundreds and thousands of dollars."

Q: What are your plans for your retirement?

"I will be splitting my time in Walla Walla and Seattle with my kids and grandkids. I would like to travel and do some volunteer work. Also, attending more of my grandchildren's events."

Q: What was your best experience working at Wa-Hi?

"Having my own area of a job, working with the students and staff. Also attending all the student activities."

"Once a Blue Devil...Always a Blue Devil"

Saying "Good-bye" to Mrs. Morasch

STUDENT LIFE

Big Blue Weekend

This year at Big Blue Weekend, campers and volunteers were entertained by the team Olympics, the meal time entertainment "Jamie and Jamie," the zipline ending with a splash, and for the first year- the go-cart track. Stu Cabe enjoyed BBW so much he returned again, bringing along his friend Geoff McLachlan, sharing various funny, sometimes sad, stories from their lives to help with BBW's goal: to unite the school.

Radium Girls

Inspired by a true story, Radium Girls follows the actions of a dial painter, Grace Fryer, as she fights for her day in court. Her leading opposer is her former boss, a man who cannot bring himself to believe that the same element that shrinks tumors could have any relation with the awful rash and illnesses among his employees. As the case goes on, Grace finds herself fighting not just with the U.S. Radium Corporation, but with her own friends and family, who fear that her campaign for justice is a lost cause.

WHAT INSPIRES YOUR STYLE?

KALLY MCCLURE

I really love bursts of color because I am a really happy person. I like to reflect my colorful personality into what I wear. I really like flowers and dresses so if it's winter I just add some tights and boots to stay warm. No matter what I have, I can add colors and jackets until I like it. The most important thing to me is how I feel in my clothes, not how others view me.

NATALIE FINK

I really love New York street style and I get most of my ideas from fashion blogs. I really like a unique kind of fashion. I find a lot of my clothes in thriftstores and I add more up to date accessories to make the style my own.

MADISEN TUCKER

I really like old punk rock clothing and music combined with modern pop culture accessories. My style makes me stand out, so I don't look like a total clone of everyone else.

MRS. DUNCAN

I like comfort but professionalism is important to me also. I think I am "classic with a twist" - converse with slacks, a T-shirt with a suit jacket. Mostly traditional but with something unexpected. I grew up in the country riding horses, working with animals, and camping. I still spend as much time outside as possible, so my clothes have to be practical, functional and multipurpose.

TOP FASHION

PROJECT HALLWAY

Fashionable students attending Wa-Hi turn the hallways into runways. They make passing periods more like a red carpet show.

NICK BRISTOL

I like to mix my style with classiness while still maintaining my own look. My inspiration towards my look is everyone around me. Everybody has their own style. I stand out because I mix punk with class. I think it will make others realize that it's okay to be different and mix opposites together.

NICKELS KEIL

When I get dressed I always try to match my clothes so that it looks better. When I go to the store I always look for baggy pants, large shirts, and hats. Also, I think of a color and buy things that match that color. I never leave the house without a hat. I don't know why but I think it makes the outfit better.

PETER SIRON

I like pretty and bright colors and comfortable clothes. Therefore a crazy colored, soft sweater is the thing to wear. I also usually wear a funny hat because my friend and I think they are pretty cool. The sweaters I wear are usually from past generations like how my grandparents dressed. They were pretty stylin' back then.

GEDRIC RUSSO

The thing that inspires my style the most is the vintage look or the late 80s. I love high tops and especially leather jackets. The 80s were trendy yet casual. I really like that style. Also, if girls can match their clothing, I think guys can do it too. Every once in a while I will change out my shoelaces to match a shirt and pants.

ACADEMIC

What really goes down in class!

Mrs. Blackman's Adaptive Homemaking class prepares a weekly lunch and invites community members to join them. Amber Sinden, Tiffany Steen, and Bobby Richardsen, enjoy a meal with Ben Vegors.

Aaron Eggart and Garrett Kenny put on wadders for an experiment one sunny day during Mr. Hudiberg's AP Environmental Science class.

"Some classes are easy while others are challenging but over all, the laughs, memories, and good times overcome everything."

Bed of nails

Rob Ferez lays on a bed of nails while Sarah Martin sits on top during Mr. Ahrens' CP Physics.

1) Kimberly McLaughlin, Kasey Wilcox, and Parker Postlewait read Shakespeare in English class.

3) Michael Lesmeister shows his enthusiasm for AP Calculus.

2) Diego Ramos gives a presentation in psychology.

4) Treble Ensemble practices for a performance.

Woodshop

Students work together to operate a woodshop machine.

Corps of Engineers Bridge competition

Top competitors demonstrate their bridges. 1st place went to Isaiah Stodola, 2nd place to Garrett French, and 3rd place to Rob Thonney.

What's Your Favorite Class?

Taylor Sams

"Vet-Tech because we work with animals."

Amairany Alvarado

"Psychology because the class was amazing!"

Vince Blakely

"Pottery because you can get your hands dirty and make some awesome things."

Nathalie Martinez

"Math because I'm a problem solver."

 My favorite project would be all of them because it gives me the opportunity to show everyone what art really is.

Class: Creative Imaging
 My favorite project was one I called "Clockwork City". It's one of the first graphics I made on my own, and it inspired me to create more. It looks like it could be on a CD cover, and it's really unique compared to my other compositions, in its tone and feeling.

Winter <sup>WISH</sup> Week

The Winter Wish Week assembly was made possible by the hard work of the emcee, Andrew Hoffman.

Wa-Hi Jazz Band performed, and the JROTC Rifle teams were recognized for their excellent job done at Nationals.

Right: Many of Mr. Shaw's students wished for him to receive a night of free babysitting, so he received a rather large voucher for just that.

Above: Mrs. Quackenbush received an award wished for by many students to tell her how much she is appreciated.

Above: Colleen Gibbons wished to thank Ms. Buissink in a special way for her help. ASB made a plaque saying thank you for all your help and presented it to her at the assembly.

Above: Andrew Hoffman wished to recognize Marcos Soto for all he did as the team manager last year, so the soccer team presented Marcos with cleats and a soccer ball signed by the team.

Right: Green Club wished for better recycling at Wa-Hi, so ASB gave them some new bins and they decorated them in hopes to improve Wa-Hi's recycling.

Hannah Melling and Megan Thompson

Right: Many of Mr. Locati's students wished for him to have hair, so ASB gave him a curly blond wig to wear with pride.

Below: TJ Ashley wished to represent the sophomore class in some way. He was able to compete against a member of each class to try and blow cards off a bottle until only one remained.

Below: ASB granted the wish for Wa-Hi Chamber Singers to perform "Dancing Queen" from the musical Mamma Mia.

Right: Alyssa Hernandez received a guitar as her wish.

Below: Mason Ahrens wished for Soul Status to perform at lunch, so during both lunches Jonathon Petri, Gabriel Gonzales, Jake Anady, and Kyle Schleeede rocked the Wa-Hi Commons.

Left: Jonathan Bell wished to receive a Wa-Hi Blue Devils sweatshirt, so he was granted an 'Everyday Wa-Hi' hoodie.

This year ASB at Wa-Hi decided to start a new program called Winter Wish Week. The idea was borrowed from Prosser High School after seeing an inspirational video of a wish they granted. The program began back in November 2011, when slips were delivered to every homeroom asking students to write down one wish for themselves and one wish for someone else. Then ASB compiled them and decided which ones were possible to grant and which one they wanted to work to grant. The goal was to grant as many wishes as possible, but the catch: ASB couldn't spend any of it's own money. Wish week would not have been possible without donations that were received from the community: teachers, businesses, fellow community members and sometimes just the effort of the ASB students. The actual week of granting wishes was February 20-24, 2012. By the end of the program, including a wish granting assembly, ASB granted about 150 wishes, but affected way more than 200 students.

Right Katlyn Bates also wished for a Blue Devil sweatshirt and Jonathon Petri and Ana Andrade granted this wish for her.

Above: Richard Jimenez wished for his best friend, Madison Nelson, to be told she was beautiful. To have a large impact, ASB made this poster for her and made sure that the whole school would be able to see it.

Above: Caden McClure wished for prom tickets. ASB gave him a certificate to get 2 free prom tickets once they come on sale.

Above: Megan Thompson wished for Jennifer Reardon to be the Girls Basketball in-town manager. She went to all games and on senior night recieved a special award.

Above: Kayla Witt wished for her sister to be allowed admission to a girls varsity basketball game, get a t-shirt, and to get to stand in the entrance with the cheerleaders.

Below: A student wished for her parents to be able to go to dinner to celebrate their anniversary, ASB was able to get them a complementary dinner date for two at Taqueria Yungapeti.

Right: One of the funny wishes to be granted was when Marisol Beck wished for a snickers bar. ASB excitedly popped into her math class to present it to her.

On March 21 & 22, talented Wa-Hi students came together to raise money for two great programs: "Winter Wish Week" and "The Dave Meyer Memorial Scholarship Foundation". Learn about Winter Wish Week by flipping to page 156-157. The scholarship foundation gives Wa-Hi students money for athletic camps. Dave Meyer's family selects athletes who excel not only in athletics, but also in school. These athletes are those who best embody the spirit and legacy left by Dave Meyer during his time at Wa-Hi and in his battle with an eight year brain tumor.

Extreme Sports

Eventing

Rugby

"Rugby is a very physical sport. It takes a lot of physical and mental toughness. On the field the two teams are enemies, but after the game everyone goes to a social and everyone is friends."

-Jon Blanc

Motorcross

"I enjoy desert riding on my dirt bike and riding snowmobiles in the blues."

I love motor sports because I have been doing them since I was 6 years old. The adrenaline rush is thrilling. I love working on my bike with my dad and going desert riding with him. It is fun doing a sport that my family is involved in and I plan on continuing riding and racing."

-Sydney Vollmer

"Eventing consists of Dressage, Show Jumping, and Cross-Country. It is the only sport where your medical information has to be strapped to your arm. I compete in Eventing with my Appy Thoroughbred, Harley. Our favorite phase is Cross-Country because of the exhilaration that passes through us as we are galloping along a path, flying over impossible fences, and risking our lives."

Michaela Nordheim

BMX

"BMX is all about competition. Basically, the objective is to race your bike as hard and as fast as you can to win. I like it because it is a different sport, not everybody does it, and I like to win. The adrenaline rush I get when it is time to race definitely makes it worth it."

-Katie Fors

Parkour

"Parkour is the freedom of movement. My friends and I like doing Parkour because it gives us some amount of freedom and it is a challenge. It is dangerous, but what in life is fun that isn't?"

-Logan Fletcher

Extreme Walker

Ballet

"Performing arts (ballet and gymnastics) have been a passion of mine since I was 9 years old. It is a way to free myself from all stress and express my feelings without words. To perform and entertain the audience through dance is truly rewarding."

-Rocio Lopez

Snowboarder/Skier

"I haven't been long distance walking for very long. When I do go, however, I go for 30 miles. I usually have to set out in the morning to make sure I have enough time. Last time I went, it took roughly 10 hours. On my trips, I usually take about 5 or 6 water bottles, a few Cliff bars, a sandwich or two for lunch, and my iPod with audio books. I like it because it gives me a lot of time to think about life. It is also physically and mentally challenging which provides a good challenge. The last few miles are extremely tough because you're super sore with blisters and it seems as though the time barely passes by."

-Nik Miner

"I have been skiing for just about my whole life, and it has gotten more and more fun each year. My friend and I go up to Bluewood just about every weekend and sometimes we'll travel to other places like Mt. Hood, Oregon. Skiing has been a big part of my life and I plan to keep it that way for as long as possible."

-Wylie Hampson

Sports Wrap-Up

Football

Our 2011 football team will be remembered for laying the solid foundation from which this program will grow and become the power that it once was. The year was an absolute blast and it had a tremendous group of seniors.

Every 15 Minutes

On April 10, 2012 23 students at Wa-Hi were killed in some kind of drunk driving related accident. Or at least this is what the school was told during the Every 15 Minutes program this year. Every 15 Minutes is a program done annually at Wa-Hi in which a number of seniors volunteer to "die" sometime during the day, 1 every 15 minutes to represent the number of deaths each year due to drunk driving. Part of the program is that after the students die, they dress like the dead and continue on like they would on a normal day, only they are unable to talk. Just as if they were actually dead. The next day, all the seniors go to an assembly, where the "dead" students participate in a skit, read letters of their experience, and listen to real-life tragic stories. This year was "one of the maturest group of students in a long time, and was one of the best years in a while" quoted from the woman in charge of the program.

Part of the program was for some parents to get visits from police officers as if their child had really been killed in an accident. The parents were warned of this but for Mr. and Mrs. Humphreys and Beth Watson it felt all too real. These parents then wrote a letter about their feelings and read them at the assembly. The students also wrote letters to people in their lives as if they were really dead.

Some students decided to share those letters at the assembly. Devyn Humphreys wrote to her parents. Jonathon Petri wrote to his mother, Katelyn Hensley wrote to her younger brother Gabe, and Brogan Watson wrote to her mother. The students got very emotional and it is safe to say so did the audience.

During the assembly, students were told a real-life story of a personal experience with drinking and driving. His sister drank and drove one night and she was in a tragic car accident on the highway and was killed. During the two days of the program, her truck sat outside the gym for a week to emphasize the dangers of drinking and driving. He introduced a different point of view, the point of view of the family who goes through a tragic experience like that. He told of how hard it was after his sister passed away. His story seemed to affect the audience greatly.

About the play: Maria is a sweet young nun whose love of freedom makes it obvious to her superiors that she is not suited for the religious life. So she is sent off to be the governess to Captain Von Trapp's seven troublesome children. Maria becomes friends with the children due to their mutual love of music. Soon, even the strict Captain begins to admire Maria. Eventually, the Captain and Maria fall in love and are married. Unfortunately, when the Nazis invade their homeland Austria, the whole family is forced to flee over the alps to escape.
